

About Jessica Reagan Salzman owner of Behind the Scenes LLC

Throughout her career, Jessica Reagan Salzman has helped small businesses and entrepreneurs maximize their resources with bookkeeping tactics and accounting strategies. For more than a decade, she has managed the financial aspects of a variety of small businesses, including assisting businesses with start-up procedures.

After working for a CPA firm, Jessica was longing to spend more time with her family, but also to create a career that was just as satisfying. She realized that she could create a company to help other small businesses which also allowed her the flexibility to be with her growing family. In 2006, Behind the Scenes LLC was born and Jessica became a lifestyle entrepreneur.

Jessica's exclusive "bookkeeping with benefits" model helps clients understand their monthly financial statements, empowering them to make more effective and more profitable business decisions. It also provides clients with peace of mind that while they concentrate on revenue-producing goals, Behind the Scenes is taking care of the bookkeeping aspect of their business.

She is designated a Professional Bookkeeper as a graduate of Universal Accounting Center. Jessica is also a member of the American Institute of Professional Bookkeepers (AIPB) and the National Society of Accountants (NSA), and she is a Certified QuickBooks ProAdvisor.

Jessica lives in Norwood, MA with her husband, two daughters, and their dog.

Three things you may not know about Jessica Reagan Salzman:

- 1) She was the Karate Kid. Jessica ranked internationally in Tournament Karate as a kid – and she was the only girl competing.
- 2) She's been working since she was 12 and even had a full-time position while still in high school.
- 3) She's a night owl, preferring to burn the midnight oil than wake before the sun to get things done.
